DESCRIPTION:

The 4.5 acre High Street Cemetery is located on the south side of High Street, surrounded by a wrought iron fence with decorative cast iron corner posts. The cemetery is accessible by a "U" shaped paved driveway and includes a non-contributing single-bay contemporary front gable garage with vinyl siding and an asphalt shingle roof. The property contains approximately 2500 burials. Burials in the cemetery began in the 1820s and include approximately 68 veterans and 33 notable people. Hiel Brockway, founder of the Village of Brockport is buried in the cemetery. Mary Jane Holmes, author of 40 novels including Lena Rivers is buried here along with her husband Daniel Holmes. Other notable figures buried in the High Street cemetery include: William Seymour, partner of D.S. Morgan, with whom he manufactured the first reapers in the United States, New York State Senator Jerome Fuller, and Cornelius Rockefeller, a member of the renowned Rockefeller family.
